By a perusal of our advertising columns it will be seen that the advertisement of John C. Lewis, 414 to 422 Fourth Avenue, Louisville Ky., appears in this issue. Catalogue containing price list of all the goods handled by him will be cheerfully mailed free on application. A list of sample prices will be found in advertisement which it will pay you to read, then give him a trial order by mail.

Attention is called to the advertisement of S. T. Moore & Co., the great manufacturers' agents, Louisville Ky. This firm has been in business for twenty years, handling Furniture, Carpets and Household Goods at retail for wholesale prices, and their immense business necessitated a change of location, from cor. 4th and Main to 436-438 Jefferson, 439-441-443 Green Street, between Fourth and Fifth Avenues, to accommodate the demands of the public. We endorse every assertion and all advantages claimed by them in their advertisement as they are the only manufacturers' agents South of the Ohio river, therefore have no competitors. Their manner of conducting business shuts out the "middle man," saving consumer their profits and giving said consumer goods at wholesale prices or a saving of at least 50 percent. Don't fail to avail yourself of this chance to save money when in need of anything in their line by calling in person or addressing them.

Revival on Board Steamer "City of Owensboro."

Recently, Col. Winstead, of Henderson, Ky., shipped several hundred empty "Silk Velvet" whiskey barrels on Steamer "City of Owensboro" to Louisville. The deck hands drained whiskey from the bung holes and all got happy and sang with "hands all round." "We're on the good old ship of Zion—Hallelujah!" and still a prohibitionist will say, that old "Silk Velvet" will make a man fuss with his wife, draw his sword on his best friend and send his soul to perdition.

G. A. Lieper, ex-warden of the Arkansas penitentiary, has been charged with being accessory in the murder of eight convicts in the Coal Hill Mines. The convicts were whipped to death by the wardens and guards under Lieper.

THEATRICAL.

Miss Adelaide Randall, who is known in Hopkinsville and made such a favorable impression on our citizens on her former visit here a few years ago with the Payson Opera Company, will again favor us with a visit of two nights, next Friday and Saturday, and a special Saturday Matinee. She will open her season here with "Madame Boniface" a bright and sparkling comedy from the French, the music of which was written by Lacoue, the composer of the "Marques," a comic opera played early this season at the Casino, in New York.

Miss Randall is surrounded by a first-class company. Miss Gertrude Hoyt, formerly a member of the Emma Abbott company, Miss Clara Randall, Mr. Jas. F. Peake, who is identified with all the productions of first-class opera since Caroline Riching's palmy days; Mr. Chas. F. Lang, well-known as a member of Chas. Ford's old company; Mr. Herman Waldo and Mr. St. A. Daniels, a young comedian who is sure to please the ladies as Monsieur Boniface. During the play of "Madame Boniface" there will be introduced the following musical numbers: "The Golden Moon," a grand duet from the "Beggars Student," and the latest topical song from the "Little Tycoon," "You Can't Do It Yo' Know." Miss Randall will also sing the popular lullaby from the opera of "Erminia."

At the Saturday matinee will be produced one of the latest New York successes by the author of the "Mascott," entitled "The Bridal Trap." All the young folks contemplating matrimony should be sure and see "The Bridal Trap" and get some pointers on married life.

On Saturday, their last performance, will be played (Judges Greatest Triumph) a musical comedy in 3 acts, entitled "Niniche," during the second of which Miss Randall will sing the drinking song from "Girolo Girolo."

Prof. Burk's Equine-Curriculum, composed of trained horses and ponies, highly entertained the audience at the Opera House last night. To those who have never seen horses perform before the footlights it is something truly wonderful, and especially is this true of Prof. Burk's collection of trained animals, for they manifest remarkable intelligence. This character of entertainment is patronized by the very best class of people, and is strongly recommended by Prof. H. K. Taylor and W. S. Ryland, of Russellville, who are well known in this city. The horse holds a high position in the admiration of the people and all who want to be instructed and entertained, should not fail to attend the performances this afternoon and evening. This exhibition is not on a level with the ordinary horse show usually seen in a circus, but is a development of the possibilities to be attained by years of careful training, wherein the animals are made to do everything except talk. The military drill is truly wonderful.

TOBACCO NEWS.

CLARKSVILLE:—Our receipts, are lighter, but are still full. The sales this week will probably be 550 hds., the bulk of which was taken on speculation. The market opened very active and strong, but became irregular and easier at times on Wednesday, but rallied again. A great portion of the offerings were again in sort order, and as this crop shows signs of sweating badly, we warn our planters against rejecting bids on soft hogheads, because the bids are a little below their expectations, for a second opening of the same hoghead later on may give them cruel disappointment. Our receipts in March were 4,111 hds. Sales in March were 1,954 hds. Stocks April 1st were 11,900.—Tobacco Leaf.

20 YEARS 20 S. T. MOORE & CO., Manufacturers' Agents and Commission Merchants,

Nos. 436-438 Jefferson, 439-441-443 Green Street, Bet., Fourth and Fifth Avenues.

There is no peer to enter the lists against us, no Gladiator dare measure our Damascus blade. Brilliant as a meteor, enduring as granite, our Commercial fame has illuminated the business world and blessed the people. Our success has been in our eccentricity. Travel the road of the millions and you get short grass; strike out on broad prairies and isolation gives you richness. This is the key to our success. This is the reason why the green-eyed monster has scowled on S. T. MOORE & CO., from local shop-keepers only. Let us retrospect. Through a long, dark, starless night of business paralysis, hundreds, yes thousands of manufacturing firms have waited for the dawn of day. All the theories of Free Traders, Protectionists, Democrats, Republicans, Greenbackers, Female Suffragists and Dr. Mary Walker have failed to yield relief. The gathering force of the storm has beat pitilessly on the manufacturing heroes, and in the surging tide, while the untamed elements chanted the dolorous requiem to dying and prostrate enterprise, a craft hove in sight, bearing the glad legend,

"Cash Advances to any Amount!"

We took them aboard again and again, until our craft carries over five hundred of the rescued. We regret the sacrifice, we pity the victims; but heroic treatment alone could save them from utter annihilation, and our duty to the ill-starred manufacturer, our consciousness of being a great public blessing ameliorated the pain of sacrifice. We have repeated it ten thousand times, and we may be considered a trifle prolix and tedious; but we risk it again. Our interest in their products is 10 per cent, commission off the seller, not you. Mark that! We are the butchers; the hide, tallow and body goes to you, less 10 per cent. on commission. These goods are at your mercy. We must get our advance back, so we control the sale; not the manufacturer.

Once in our hands the consignor has no control of them. Thus we gain two points: Ready cash for the manufacturer and cheap goods for the buyer. Hence we are the friend of the people, and while the vacant stare of longing for customers casts a sickly shade over the physiognomy of many thousands of merchants, our firm is a rush and jam. While their stores are silent as a base-ball ground on Christmas, the people are mangling each other to get into S. T. MOORE & CO.'s Warehouses. Remember this! While all our goods are fresh from the great Carpet and Furniture Factories, all of the most superb styles, all modern, bright and fresh as an English daisy, yet we cannot keep off the multitude who want the benefit of our Auction Room, and consequently every Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. our weekly auction offers with a little patience an extra bonanza. Cash or time. You must know that substandard prices can be had only for spot cash; cash before delivery. But to those who want time we must add the legal rate of interest, a trifle to be sure; but it is best to be honest and mention it here. What have we? You had better ask what we have'n't. Do not ask what we keep, and adopt the old rule, "What you see don't ask for."
